

Green Media Fellowship

Partnership Proposal

GMF

Is a six month visual media fellowship/ training on environment media through documentary film and photography. It is designed for youth of indigenous, native identities. The fellowship promotes media priority in ecological justice grassroot projects.

The fellowship was launched in 2025 by Docskool bringing together 9 fellows and 12 development partners.

Who is it for?

10 participants join the fellowship as knowledge bearers of indigenous wisdom. The program sees them as key individuals for sustainable media documentation.

Participants are climate champions, media workers, youth leaders. Selection is through open call and partner recommendations.

10 Fellows / 10 Partners

Participatory learning amongst fellows, grassroot projects and media workers forms the fellowship modality.

As 10 develop agencies join the project as knowledge partners of grassroot climate action.

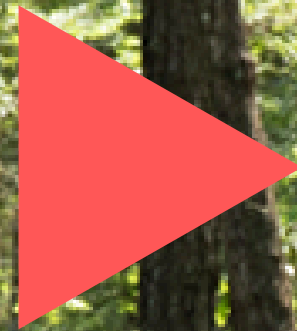

GMF supports documentation of work on environment, ecology justice undertaken by community partners.

The presented documentaries and photo projects are co-produced films made possible by the fellowship.

Documentary Co-Production

GMF Journey Video

click to play

The fellowship produces

20 + Documentary films on planet, life and native knowledge

Photo
Stories

Indigenous knowledge documentation

Environment
Film Festival

9 of 11

GMF partners are local champions

Farmer Collectives, Community Seed Banks,
Indigenous Groups,
Alternative Knowledge Producers, Environment Campaigns

Our partners from 2025

- Association of Community Seed Bank
- Bird Conservation Nepal
- Dhorpatan Municipality
- National Trust for Nature Conservation
- Jhumlabang Village Foundation
- Chepang Samaj
- Abari
- Vision Green Organization
- Finnish Church Aid
- WOREC

Fellowship Stages

01

3 month
Foundation training on visual media &
green advocacy

02

2 Month
Partner productions.
Documentation
of local actions.

03

Advanced workshops.
Thematic trainings.

04

Green
Media
Festival

Partner with the Fellowship

Fund our annual cycle.

Sponsor a fellow.

Host us at your project site.

Co-produce your documentary projects through the fellowship.

CoProduction Modality

Co-Production
collaboration produces up to a 15-min.
documentary film with partner organisations.

Docskool provides all technical and expert needs of the film.

Projects shot in 2 stage process of 45 days.

Partners contribute 2,00,000
and local logistics during shoot.

Docskool is a collective of visual media workers since 2008.

Our work builds movement potential between cinema and grassroots campaigns. We provide strategic collaborations, media skills, long term trainings on community media and Video.

Docskool
Documentary Open School

view all projects from 2025

click to play

Start your Co-Production
Journey
(click here)

docskoolnepal@gmail.com

House 142, Panchayan Marg, Thapathali
Kathmandu, Nepal

01-5351 709
www.docskool.org.np